Customer Reviews

In "The Berenstain Bears by the Sea," co-authors Stan and Jan Berenstain take Mom, Dad, and the two cubs to a vacation by the seashore. The cartoony illustrations of the humanoid bears are visually delightful, and the easy-to-read text is great for younger readers. Although this book is meant for an audience of young children, I must admit that, as an adult reader, I found it quite enjoyable. How can you resist lines like "May we? May we? / May we, please, / dip our tootsies / in the seas?" This book portrays a family that genuinely enjoys spending time together. And it even teaches a lesson in the virtue of patience. This Bears romp is a great choice for the beginning reader.

My son read this book the other night and really enjoyed it! He learned a valuable lesson about doing your chores before having the fun play time!

My 3.5 year old boy can pick up the words and read by himself with minimal supervision after reading him for days

We liked that the story shows family time & learning about patience! Good things will come to those who wait!

My son LOVED this book. He's in first grade so it's right at his reading level and a very good story!

MY STUDENTS LOVED IT . I used it for my "The Fair" Unit! Great short story for preschoolers

The book called By the Sea is funny. It was written by Stan and Jan Berenstain. This book is funny because it describes my family in a few ways. First they go on vacation every year, so do we. Next, Mother bear says clean up before having fun. My mother would say that. This book is funny because it seems like all mama and papa bear wanted to do is wait and have fun with their kids. I don't have a favorite character because everyone in the book is my favorite. There are so many books about the berenstain Bears so go out and read them because they are funny and caring.

LOVE THE BEARS !
